

Converts Up to 85% Of Wasted Parts Bin Floor Space To Revenue

Kardex Remstar's vertical carousels turn wasted bulky and small part bin storage into valuable revenue generating floor space. Regardless of your dealerships need, valuable space can be reclaimed by maximizing your vertical space. Carousels can span multiple floors, dug into existing floors, extend into beam and duct work area to reclaim unproductive space .... up to 40 feet tall.

Increases Revenue

- Create additional sales offices and sell more vehicles.
- Increase the number of service bays and mechanics.
- Turn multiple spare parts areas into one super productive department.
- Consolidate multiple facilities to reduce:
  - parts inventory
  - special tools
  - personnel
  - taxes
  - rent or mortgage
  - security
  - heating and air conditioning
  - insurance
- Easily add new parts quickly and easily.

- Delay costly moving floor space requirement floor space requirement expenses by being able to stay in your existing facility longer.
- Less space and more productive workers often allow you to reduce your loaner fleet.
- Reduced physical walk and search time enhance operators productivity, ability to communicate with the customers, and overall attitude and job satisfaction. This often translates to higher employee retention that increases customer satisfaction while reducing sick time, workers comp claims, training and educational costs and lost revenue due to downtime.
- Saves valuable managerial time that allows parts managers to spend more time managing, not fixing problems due to lack of space.